The Golden Cap

Synopsis

Etje, the oldest girl in a family of seven children living in a small fishing village in the Netherlands, faces a heart-rending problem. It is the late 1800's and her papa has decided to take the family to America where there is plenty of work and opportunity. But Etje's dearly loved grandmother wants Etje to stay with her in Holland. After much deliberation, Etje's papa allows her to stay behind with her Beppe, and that choice leads to events that form the heart of the story. This beautifully illustrated story book for ages 6-10 is sure to be treasured and remembered by children, teachers, parents and grandparents.

Customer Reviews

This is a wonderfully written and illustrated book that makes one long for days gone by. A feeling of peace and melancholy accompanies the reading of this children's tale that adults will enjoy just as thoroughly.

The Golden Cap is a golden gift to children with a Dutch heritage, and anyone who loves a good family story. The text and illustrations blend beautifully, and help us understand what it must feel like to want so desperately to be in two places at the same time.

This is a precious glimpse into the Dutch culture and the sacrifices families made to come to the United States. Thank you for sharing your grandmother's story! Beautiful illustrations.

The Golden Cap is a lovely story of familial love and loyalty. A beautifully illustrated immigration story that speaks to the heart.

Amazing true story
